FROM EUROPE.

BOSTON, MAY 2.

Yesterday the ship Packet, captain Trott arrived here from Liverpool in 36 days, bringing London prints to March 22.

CONSTANTINOPLE, JANUARY 3.

Sir Sydney Smith, brother of the British ambassador at this court, who had been so long expected, arrived here towards the end of the last month in the Tyger, of 84 guns. The wind being contrary the Tyger could not sail past the Seraglio, and was therefore obliged to come to anchor behind the Castle of seven Towers. Sir Sidney, with his staff, marine guards, and a number of soldiers, and some French emigrants, repaired, by desire of the Porte, to the beautiful palace of Baylos, formerly occupied by the Venetian ambassador. The above emigrants are said to be those who assisted sir Sydney to escape from the Temple at Paris.

Yesterday sir Sydney assumed the character of accredited naval minister of the king of Great Britain at the Porte, a diplomatic character very proper at the present crisis, and of which hitherto there has been no instance. Captain Smith, it is supposed, will direct the operations of the Turkish navy during the present war. He will not long remain here, as he will sail towards the end of the month, when several Turkish ships, now fitting out in great haste, shall have joined his squadron.

The pacha of Acre, who is now marching against the French in Egypt, has demanded ten thousand purses or about four millions of florins, to defray the expences of the war, to pay his troops, &c. which has been complied with.

A Russian ship arrived here, brings intelligence that the port of Alexandria has been bombarded by the allies.

JANUARY 18.

The French government, through the intervention of the Spanish, Swedish and Batavian ambassadors, has expressed its wish to re-establish its ancient friendship, and alliance, with the Porte, with offers to cede all the islands in the Adriatic sea, and other possessions on the coast of Dalmatia and Greece, viz. the islands which formerly belonged to the Venetians, viz. Corfu, Cerigo, Cephalonia, &c. (of some of which, however, the French are no longer in possession) as also to withdraw, immediately after the treaty is signed, all their troops from Egypt.

To these offers the Porte has replied, that the French have broken one treaty of peace and amity, without cause, and made an hostile attack in Egypt, the Porte had been compelled to enter into an offensive and defensive alliance with Russia and England, which it was determined faithfully to fulfil.

As we are so much in want of intelligence from Egypt. Telegraphes are to be erected, by the advice and under the inspection of sir Sydney Smith.

A French tartane, that had escaped from Alexandria, has been taken by a Turkish corsair, and carried into Chio. The French on board, 25 in number, say that an epidemic sickness has broken out in the army of Buonaparte.

From all parts of the Crimea and from Oczakow, Russian troops are on their march to the harbor of Sebastopolis, to be embarked there for Constantinople, where they will be joined by a Turkish armament, intended to effect a landing in Italy. Magazines are already formed for the use of these troops at Constantinople, and in Zante.

The Russian envoy, general Tarma, has been presented by the grand seignor with a snuff-box worth 50,000 piastres.

VIENNA, FEBRUARY 22.

The Archduke Joseph was received on the frontiers of Russia with great solemnity, and conducted on his way to Petersburg with the utmost pomp. The Russian troops in Upper Austria are to be considerably reinforced; 20,000 Russians are on their march to Angram in Croation; & when united they are all to be employed in Italy. The emperor Paul has declared his determination to reinstate the king of Naples in his dominions.

NUREMBURG, FEBRUARY 28.

The Austrian troops on the frontiers of Bavaria reckoned at 40,000 men, are to receive considerable reinforcements from Bavaria. Magazines have been established at Weeden and Amberg.

BERLIN, MARCH 5.

According to our last advices from Rastadt, which are of the 22d ult. every thing wears a warlike aspect. The French would it was there expected, enter Suabia in a few days, and would, in the first place, take possession of the Brisgau, and the dutchy of Wirtemburg. The archduke Charles, who is watching all their motions, appears to wish that the odium of commencing hostilities should lie on them, and will not make any hostile motions until he should learn that they have entered Suabia or the Brisgau. The conduct of this prince leads us to suppose that the court of Vienna will return no answer respecting the Russian troops, but that it will quietly await the course of events without provoking war, though in a state of defence, from the goodness and numbers of its troops. Ulm and Constance are two points to which a number of troops are defiling; the archduke Charles still remains posted behind the Lech, with the main body of the army, increased by the greater part of the troops who were in Bohemia, so that the whole cannot be estimated at less than 50,000 effective men.

With respect to Italy, though but in possession of very imperfect accounts of what has happened since the capture of Naples, we yet know for certain that more than half of the army of Championet was destroyed by the Lazzaroni, and that the necessity of putting a strong garrison in that place, renders the French army unable to complete the conquest of that unhappy kingdom. If, as I have before observed, a number of Russian and Turkish troops could be disembarked on the coast of the Adriatic, as well as at Civitta Vecchia, it will be easy to regain the territory which has been lost, and even to transfer the theatre of war to the gates of Bologna.

RASTADT, MARCH 7.

The deputation of the empire astonished at the rapid march of the French, was unable to recover from its surprize, when the governor of Philipsburg transmitted to the members, the summons of general Bernadotte, to surrender up that place — The answer was, that he ought to defend his fortress until he received new instructions. All the deputies are packing up their effects, and count de Lehrbach quits this place this night or to-morrow. The French column which crossed the Rhine at Manheim, and took possession of it, has continued its march with the same rapidity by the way of Hubleberg and Heilbron.— This march is made for the purpose of anticipating the Austrians, and forming a line along the Necker.

PARIS, MARCH 12.

Accounts from Italy state that a second Russian squadron has sailed through the Dardanelles, and had been joined by a Turkish detachment. They have both on board land forces, which are to be put on shore at Palermo, and they are under the command of admiral Nelson, to attempt a descent upon Calabria.

Louis Buonaparte, who arrived yesterday from Egypt, waited upon the directory, and communicated satisfactory news from that quarter.

We learn from Ancona that the Turks are throwing up fortifications on the coasts of Albania, since they have heard of the progress of the French in the kingdom of Naples.

The majority of the Piedmontese have declared themselves in favour of an union with France.

LONDON, MARCH 19.

Last night the Paris journals from the 12th to the 14th instant, inclusive, were received in town. They contain more important intelligence than has lately come from that quarter.

On the 12th and 13th instant the directory sent messages to the two councils, containing a formal requisition that might be decreed by the French nation.— None of the journals that have arrived, contain full copies of these important documents; but the following extract from the Patriote Francois, of the 14th, will enable our readers to form tolerable correct ideas respecting them:

A DECLARATION OF WAR AGAINST THE
EMPEROR and the GRAND DUKE

COUNCIL OF FIVE HUNDRED.

23 VENTOSE, MARCH 13.

"Delbrel, the secretary, read several messages from the Council of Elders, containing the resolutions of that council on the subject of the message of the directory, stating that the French republic is at war with the emperor, king of Hungary and Bohemia, and with the Grand Duke of Tuscany.

"The directory has explained at length in its message the complaints of the republic against those two powers. It declares, with respect to the emperor, that the treaty of Campo Formio was misunderstood in its principle, and not carried into effect, in one of its principle articles; & that the conduct of the Austrian cabinet has been always in opposition to peace. It adverts to the cool reception of our ambassador Bernadotte, at Vienna; to the affront offered to him there; hypocricy of that court in the negociations of Selz, which was the more evident because baron de Degelman did not repair to Paris; the sending of count Cobenzel to Berlin and Russia; and to the difficulties raised at Vienna to receive the Cisalpine ambassador.

"It finally demonstrates the hostile dispositions of the emperor with respect to the march of the Russians across Moravia and Austria, which are on the confines of Bavaria, already occupied by an army of 100,000 Austrians.

"The directory in the same message accuses the grand duke of Tuscany of perfidy towards the republic, and of connivance with the enemies of France.

It exposes his secret negociations with the cabinet of St. James's, particularly by the possession of Leghorn by the English, against which he merely opposed ill-disguised efforts.

"The message concludes with a formal proposition of declaring war against the Emperor and the Grand Duke.

"It was ordered to be printed, and was received with shouts "Long live the republic!"

Thus is the great question at last decided, and Europe—miserable unhappy Europe! is doomed to suffer indescribable horrors, and to hear the wailings of widows and orphans.

Already have the French begun their operations. The Patriote, of the 13th, gives the following account of their first successes:

"We joyfully announce a happy prelude of success on the part of our armies.—A courier arrived from Switzerland, brings intelligence that the troops under the command of Massena and another general, have taken 4,500 Austrians, together with the commandant of Coire (Chur), the capital of the Grison country, and all the staff of that army."

No further particulars are mentioned, nor has any official communication been made on the subject. The Austrian general Bellegarde, was according to the last advices, at Coire; but had an officer of his rank been made prisoner, the Paris papers would not have failed to notice it.

It was only on the 2d. inst. that general Massena entered the country of the Grisons. His army lost no time, we see, in proceeding to hostilities; and it is probable, therefore, that before this the armies that have crossed the Rhine have regularly opened the campaign; for the notes and proclamations received by the mail may now be considered as mere blinds to lull the Germans into an idea that they meant only to induce the emperor to order the Russians to retreat.

The following appears to be the different positions of the French armies that have crossed the Rhine, according to the most recent advices:

The French column under general Bernadotte, which passed the Rhine near Manheim, of which it took possession, continued its route with the utmost rapidity by Hubleberg and Heilbron. It is said that the general made this haste for the purpose of being before hand with the Austrians, and to form a line from Philingen and Heilbron, along the Necker, on both sides of which river are high mountains and advantageous positions.

General Bernadotte, after crossing the Rhine, summoned the port of Philisburgh to surrender, which the governor refused. The army under general Jourdan marched directly into the interior of Suabia leaving a garrison at Offenburgh. His principal head quarters were, on the 5th instant, at Villingen in the Black Forrest.

General St. Cyr, who commands the left wing of the French army, has reached the Dutchy of Wirtemburg by the Knieb is mountains, and has taken possession of Stutgard. The duke, who has been for some time past at open war with the Provincial Diet, had repaired to Louisbourg. The Paris papers report that he and the dutchess will come to England.

The next papers may be expected to contain very important facts. The Patriote Francoise, of the 13th date, that the Austrians had passed the Lech, had advanced beyond Ulm, and that in a few days the two armies would be in sight of each other.

MARCH 11.

As this paper was about to be put to press, we learned that French papers had reached town of the 15th and 16th. They confirm the account of the French having beaten the Austrians, at Coire, the capital of the Grisons, after a bloody engagement, which place they have taken.

An account has been received by the Hamburgh mails, of a proclamation by the archduke Charles, in which he declares his intention of immediately marching to the attack of the French, in consequence of their having crossed the Rhine.

BUONAPARTE.

At Milan it was reported, that a letter had been received from general Lannus, stating, that the Pacha of Syria, at the head of an army of 60,000 men, had been defeated in a general engagement by Buonaparte, who had in consequence penetrated into Syria, leaving general Kleber in command of the forces in Egypt.

The history of the French march against Naples is a complete history of jacobinism. General Mack was surrounded by treason on all sides. Both officers and men were sold to the French.

Vice-admiral sir W. Parker is appointed to the Newfoundland station, vice Waldegrave, who retires—Sir R. Curtis, to the Cape, vice Christian, deceased—Sir C. Cotton, Halifax, vice Vandeput, who retires.

Dispatches were yesterday received at lord Grenville's office from Mr. T Grenville at the court of Berlin, brought by Mr. Mason, the messenger, who experienced with the right honorable gentlemen the severities of the weather, after being compelled to leave the Proserpine frigate.

The average price of sugar, computed from the returns made in the week ending the 27th day of February, 1799, is seventy one shillings and nine pence half-penny per hundred weight.

M. La Fayette has left Holstein, and is gone to pay a visit to his daughter, who is settled with her husband near Utrecht, but it is not true that the general has made any overtures towards his eradication from the list of emigrants or towards his return to France.

Pichegru, who had been for some time at Hamburgh, was very near being arrested by order of the French Legation. It is reported that he continues to reside at Brunswick.

Mrs. Siddons resumed her situation on Saturday last at Drury lane theatre, in the character of lady Randolph. The house was in all parts numerously attended, a tribute due to the genius of the actress who returned to the theatre, as well as to the merit of this simple and affecting drama.

Several French actors have received passports of the minister of the marine, in order to proceed to Egypt, to perform on the theatre established by Buonaparte at Grand Cairo.

The Curro of Alexandria.

It is expected that each rider will be dressed neat, with a silk jacket, cap, &c.

The clerk of the course, Mr. Campbell, will have a stand in the middle of the ground, where the betting post will be fixed. Sportsmen take notice, that the betting post will be at the stand of the clerk, where it is hoped every person will go to make his bets on the Race, so to be out of the way of the track.

A drum will be at the stand. All dogs will be shot that appear on the course the day of the race. All disputes and bets to be determined by the judges of the race, who will be experienced sportsmen and men of honour. Without any kind of exception the Curro of Alexandria is the handsomest in the United States, and I have not a doubt but that all true sportsmen will be highly gratified with the order and regularity of the meeting.

The Manager.

The Insurgent, we hear, is daily expected in Hampton Roads.—She will refit at Norfolk.

The schooner Hiram, captain Samuel Lewis, of and from New-York, bound to Charleston, was in Hampton Roads on the 5th instant; she had been struck with lightning between Cape Hatteras and Cape Look out, and had lost both her masts bowsprit, head, &c.

Ship Molly, capt. Swain, from Philadelphia has arrived at Liverpool. Off Cape Clear, the Molly fell in with a French brig of 16 sixes full of men, and beat her off, after an action of 5 hours; during which the brig made several attempts to board, but without success. The crew of the Molly received no damage

John Thompson, commander of the schooner Potomack, left Surinam the 1st April last, and informs—that two days previous to his sailing, was brought in the American brig Prudence, of Washington in North Carolina, which had been captured 19 leagues to the eastward of the river Surinam, by the French national schooner Importune, capt. Malvin, with two French privateers in company. The Prudence being very leaky and a dull sailing vessel, they were obliged to bear down for Surinam; all the men were taken out, except the master capt. Farquhier and the cabin boy; and the papers concerning the vessel were taken to Cayenne by captain Malvin, where it was generally supposed she would be condemned.

At the arrival of the Prudence at Surinam, the governor was out of town, but the second in command, ordered the French prize master to anchor under the reach of the guns of a dutch man of war, and immediately a Dutch guard was placed on board, in order to prevent any thing being taken out by the French prize master during her stay at Surinam; it was generally believed, that the governor Frederici, would not allow the French to sell their prizes at that place, and it was reported the evening before captain T's. sailing, that the governor had issued his orders already for her departure, but the brig not being fit for sea, prevented the orders from being executed—consequently she is obliged to discharge, and the cargo is to be placed in one of the government stores, under directions of proper persons appointed for that purpose; but it was said that as soon as the vessel was repaired, her cargo should be taken in, and that the orders for her departure should be rigorously executed. Our informant has not the least doubt but that the governor will maintain his neutrality with the Americans. (Bal. Pap.)

NEW YORK MAY 6.

THREE CHEERS FOR COMMODORE TRUXTON.

Yesterday arrived in 27 days from St. Kitts, the brig Telegraphe, capt Galloway, who informs, that the active, enterprizing, and gallant Truxton, has taken another French privateer of 6 guns, bound from St. Bartholomews to Gaudaloupe. She had been notorious for her successful industry in taking our merchantmen. May such be the fate of every plundering marauder.

BALTIMORE, MAY 8.

After an almost unprecedented dearth of European intelligence, we are at length enabled to lay before our readers, news received by this day's mail, of the greatest importance. There is no longer a doubt now of the renewal of hostilities between the Emperor and France, in which Russia and the Porte will also be vigorously engaged in the common cause of the world.

It is with much pleasure we learn by the late arrival at Boston, that the French have not given Hamburg a fraternal squeeze, and that even the apprehensions of such an embrace, no longer existed.

FOREIGN SUMMARY.

The London papers received by Captain Trott, from Liverpool, contain interesting intelligence of late dates. The most prominent articles are those which relate to the renewal of hostilities between France and the emperor of Germany, which appear to be inevitable—the government and people of Europe were formerly indebted to peace for their happiness, they must now be contented to owe their safety to their military energy; it is however consolatary, that the Emperor is in a situation to maintain this military energy, for besides the 34,000 Russians who are now rapidly marching towards Upper Austria, 16,000 more are following, at the distance only of a few days march; 45,000 more are, it is said, to enter Germany by the south of Prussia, and according to accounts under the Constantinople head, a considerable body is to embark on the Black Sea, to join the Turkish fleet, and to make a diversion in Italy. The emperor of Russia has thus entered spiritedly into the coalition against France;—he has besides insisted on an express declaration on the part of Prussia, for or against France; and has sworn to re-instate the king of Naples on his throne. The corps of Conde is to join the Russian troops in Germany. The ratification of the triple alliance between Great-Britain, Russia and the Porte, has been celebrated at Constantinople with great eclat.

One of the first acts of the French after taking possession of Naples was to levy a contribution of 2,500,000 ducats on the rich inhabitants of that city, but such was the scarcity of money, that it was found very difficult to levy the contribution. General Championet, the conqueror of Naples, is put under arrest on the charge of infringing upon the constitutional power of the civil commissioner, Faypoult, who acted with the army The elector palatine of Bavaria is dead.

Great and affecting sufferings have been occasioned by the ice and the overflow of the Rhine, the Danube, the Mein, the Neckar, the Rhone, and of all the principal rivers of Germany and France. The contemplated union between Great Britain and Ireland has been much debated in the English parliament, but the measure is to be laid aside for the present.

[Russell's Com. Gaz.]

RICHMOND, MAY 7.

A most tremendous hurricane visited Williamsburg and its vicinity on the first of this month—many houses were torn to pieces, and quite ruined. Fortunately no personal injury was sustained, except the breaking of a negro's arm.

The description given of this Tornado by those who witnessed its violence, is horrid indeed. Windows were blown in, chimnies thrown down, the roofs of houses opened to the heaviest flood of rain, and the roaring of the wind through the different breaches which it had made, was strikingly awful and alarming.

LONDON, MARCH 17.

FRENCH AND DUTCH FLEETS.

Advice was yesterday received at the admiralty, that a considerable convoy, with naval and other stores, and having on board a large body of troops, had arrived at Brest from Bordeaux. Seven frigates and seventy gun vessels at Havre, have been dismantled, and the crews conveyed to Brest.—The numerous privateers of Cherbourg have experienced the like fate, and the fishermen along the entire coasts of Normandy and Britanny have been put in requisition. The Brest fleet thus recruited, and now in every respect ready for sea, consists in the outward road of six ships of 110 guns, and nine two deckers; and in the inner road there are twelve ships of the line nearly equipt for service.

In consequence of this intelligence, orders were yesterday issued from the admiralty for reinforcing the squadron of admiral Kingsmill, and to expedite as much as possible the equipment of the several ships preparing at Portsmouth, &c. for sea.

The Dutch marine, by uncommon exertions, has not only repaired the losses which it sustained in the action of the 11th October but attained a more formidable appointment than it has known pending the war. The fleet in the Texel is in readiness for sea.

MARCH 18.

The king of Prussia goes to Wesel on the 5th of June to review the troops in that neighborhood.

The movements of the French troops in Italy indicate an intention to attack the Austrians in that quarter. Letters from Brescia, dated January 21st, mention the departure of a considerable body of the French troops with a train of artillery, and a corps of cavalry, from that place for the banks of the Adige, on the frontiers of the Cisalpine Republic.

According to the letters from Cadiz the Spanish government in preparing very considerable armaments in that port.

MARCH 20.

According to the latest letters from Ratisbon, the diet had not come to any decision relative to the march of the Russian troops.

It is said that Dumourier has made his peace by some projects for an attack of Ireland, and that he is actually at Brest.

SELECTED POETRY.

CASIMIR'S ADDRESS TO THE DORMANT ROSE.

CHILD of the Summer, charming Rose,
No longer in confinement lie;
Arise & light; thy form discloses;
Rival the spangles of the sky.

The RAINS are gone; the storms are o'er;
Winter retires to make thee way;
Come then, thou sweetly blushing flow'r
Come, lovely stranger, come away.

The SUN is dress'd in beaming SMILES,
To give thy beauties to the day;
Young zephyrs wait, with gentler GALES,
To fan thy bosom, as they play.

SONG,

TO SUIT THE TIMES,
Tune——The Water Gods.

ARISE and blow thy Trumpet Fame,
Americans your rights proclaim,
To ev'ry realm that's known,
Tell them of great COLUMBIA'S son,
The good the glorious WASHINGTON,
Who soars above a throne.

Shou'd pow'rful BRITAIN on us smile,
Our Independence to beguile,
Their flat'ry we'll despise;
Tho' Gallia, plays an artfull game,
COLUMBIA'S glory to defame,
Each trick in embryo dies.

Tho' ALGIERS with imperious hand,
Quite fearless, made a bold demand,
And we, like others, gave;
Let's bid defiance to them all,
The TURK, the BRITAIN, and the GAUL,
Since ADAMS rules the brave.

Still louder, FAME, thy trumpet blow,
Let all the distant nations know
Americans are free;
Almighty wisdom laid the plan,
And VIRTUE join'd the veteran band,
That gain'd our Liberty.

COLUMBIA'S sons with songs advance,
And through the ethereal vast expanse,
Let WASHINGTON be prais'd;
He led us through the lonely wood,
O'er desert hills, and fields of blood,
And Freedom's banners rais'd.

May 2.

NOTICE

To the Creditors of Josiah Watson, and the Public in general.

On the 25th day of May next the Subscriber

Will offer for Sale,

To the highest bidder, at the Coffee-House, in Alexandria,

The following Property,

TO WIT:

THE LANDS situated in

Frederick and Shanandoah counties, which he purchased from the Executors of the late General Zane.

The said lands will be sold in such lots as will suit purchasers of every description.

A part of the above lands are mortgaged for a balance of the purchase money still remaining due, and are also incumbered in other respects; all which incumbrances the subscriber expects will be settled, or so adjusted previous to the day of sale, as to enable him to make satisfactory titles to purchasers.

At the same time and place will also be sold, a Tract of Land, situated in Fairfax county, on Cameron run, containing between four and five hundred acres. This tract of land is very valuable, and will be either sold together or laid out and sold in such manner as to form several eligible farms, and to suit purchasers of different magnitude. The said land will be sold subject to an incumbrance for about six thousand dollars.

Also will be sold, at the same time and place, the Half of a Water Lot, in Alexandria, fronting on Water-Street 176 feet, and running on Wilkes-Street into the river. Before the day of sale the said lot will be divided between the subscriber and William Hartshorne, the other half owner, and laid off in smaller lots.

At the same time and place will be offered for sale, two Tracts of Land, situated in Monongalia county; one containing five hundred, and the other one thousand acres. These lands were taken up in the year 1775, have been regularly surveyed and patented, and are very valuable.

At the same time and place will also be offered for sale, two Tracts of Land, situated in Randolph county; one containing fifty thousand, and the other fifty-six thousand acres.

Plats and descriptions of all the aforesaid property, and the divisions thereof may be seen on application to the subscriber a few days previous to the sale.

The lands in Frederick and Shanandoah can be shewn, on application to Mr. W. Hereford, resident at Marlbro' Iron Works, and the lands near Alexandria, on application for that purpose, to the subscriber.

The above property will be sold for ready money, and in payment will be admitted any debts due from the subscriber, either in his own name or the name of James Watson, or any other person; provided that, previous to the sale, those who claim such debts, by bond, bill, note, account, or otherwise, apply and give information of the amount of them, and in what manner due, and obtain from the subscriber a re-acknowlement of the sums due respectively. Without such application and adjustment, no such debts will be admitted in payment for any purchase made.

The sales of the said property will be subject to a payment of a small per cent. in cash, where any purchase is made by the creditors of the subscriber; the amount of which in each parcel of property will be made known on the day of sale.

The above is all the property of consequence the subscriber owns in this state. He is possessed of lands of considerable value, in the states of Kentucky and Tennessee; any of which he will sell in payment of his debts; a description of which lands, and the terms of sale, will be made known on application.

The subscriber truly laments that he is under the necessity of informing those of his creditors, who have evinced a disposition to indulge him, that all his efforts, to raise money to discharge their several proportions agreed to be paid about this time, have been ineffectual. In the present hopeless prospect of raising money by the sale of property, the subscriber is led to suppose that he has no other method left to satisfy his creditors, and exonerate himself from debt, but to offer this property to them in this manner, at such prices as they think it worth, being convinced that it is as necessary on their account as on his own, that his affairs should be finally settled as soon as possible.

Ten Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscribers, yesterday morning, a Negro Man, named GEORGE. He is a stout, well made Negro, and very black, about 5 feet 7½ inches high, flat face, sullen look; his eyes sunk in his head, small ears; he has two round spots near the size of a small four pence half penny on the right arm, near the elbow, which he says was occasioned by the bite of a dog, several white spots on the front part of the right arm, near the bend of the elbow, occasioned by a burn, a mark on the left arm, where he was inoculated for the smallpox, near to which there is the mark of a cut, about 1½ inch long, a mark of a cut across the side of the right big toe, a pretty large mark on the right side of his belly, pretty low down, occasioned, as he says, by a scald.—He formerly belonged to Mr. Robert Allison, and has a brother living with Mr. Jas Swift, and probably may conceal himself through the day, and get supplied with provisions at night from their kitchen, otherwise we expect he would endeavour to get off to Fauquier county, where he was apprehended when he ran away about a year ago. He had on, when he went off, an osnaburg shirt, over jacket and trousers of white kersey, pretty much worn, and an old wool hat, pieced on one side. He also took with him a new wool hat and a blanket. Whoever apprehends the said Negro and delivers him to us, in Alexandria, shall have the above reward, if taken above 30 miles; Five Dollars, if taken above 15 miles; and Three Dollars, if taken a less distance from Alexandria.
